

WHISPERS IN THE STREAM

A 4-card tarot spread to listen for and meet with the character waiting to start their journey through you

3

The Divide

As a river is more than the source flowing from one point to another; there are many divides along the way, each with their own paths to follow. What gave the stream a path to divide from the river?

What makes the character different?
Their spark? Refusal?

The Connection

Like when you first meet the edge of a river; the cool sensation brings with it a whisper of the unknown, a breath of its source. Now, as you meet the river, what source are you connecting to?

What mood, theme, or energy comes with this character?

4

The Flow

The moment you meet the river it's changed. It's always moving forward with no knowledge of its destination but the assurance of continual movement. What direction is the river flowing?

What external forces pull the character forward?

2

The Undercurrent

Currents can be lifesaving or life-endangering; it all depends in how you recognize and respect their power. Like a riptide on a sunny afternoon, what current runs beneath the surface?

What hidden need drives the character? The source of their motivation?
